General Government Gets Verdict Against Cash Register Men.

Cincinnati, Feb. 14 .- A verdict of guilty on three counts in the indictments was returned by the jury trying the case of 29 officials or former officials of the National Cash Register Company.

tion of the Sherman anti-trust

The jury deliberated on the case for almost ten hours, and there were but a scattered few of the defendants and spectators in the court room when Foreman E. C. Mo row announced the verdict.

The indictments were returned February 22, 1912, after special agents of the government had put in many days in the search for evidence. The trial began November 19, and has occupied 50 actual trial days. The total expense to the cash register company is estimated a little less than hall a million dollars. The government expenditures has been estimated at about half as much. The indictment named 30 men, but Edgar Park was dismissed recently by Judge Hollister upon the representation that he was in no way connected

Blood Was Wrong

All women, who suffer from the aches and pains, due to female ailments, are urged to try Cardui, the reliable, scientific, tonic remedy, for women. Cardui acts promptly, yet gently, and without bad effects, on the womanly system, relieving pain, building up strength, regulating the system, and toning up the nerves. During the past half century, thousands of ladies have written to tell of the quick curative results they obtained, from the use of this well-known medicine.

CARDU Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Jane Callehan suffered from womanly trouble for nearly ten years. In a letter from Whiteville, N. C., she says: "I was not able to do my own housework. My stomach was weak, and my blood was wrong. I had backache, and was very weak. I tried several doctors, but they did me no good. I used Cardui for 3 or 4 months, and new I am in the best health I have ever been. I can never praise Cardui enough." It is the best tonic, for women. Whether seriously sick, or simply weak, try Cardui.

Becker and Others.

New York, Feb. 12 .- Black blinds were drawn just before dawn in front of the cells of Charles Becker, former lieutenant of police, the four Rosenthal gunmen and other murderers awaiting execution in the house in Sing Sing prison.

There came a shuffling of feet, the door of the cell of Joseph Garfola creaked and swung wide and Garfola came out and went through the little green door. A minute afterward the lights in the death house were dimmed. The men behind the black blinds knew full well what that meant. Garfola was being put to death.

Then came more shuffling of feet and another cell door opened. This time George Bishop, a negro, stepped forth, and went through the green lights became dim.

whispered voices were heard outside the black blinds, a third door opened and Donato Carillo walked to his death. For the third time the lights

Then the lights flashed forth, the black blinds were drawn from before the cells of Becker and his companions, and they gazed into the gray dawn, all aware there were three men fewer in the death house.

Garfola murdered his wife in Suffolk county; Bishop slew Mrs. Margaret Bell, an aged Brooklyn widow, to rob her; Carillo stabbed Stephen Dixon, an Ossining carpenter. Bishon last week made futile efforts to obtain executive clemency by asserting that another man had aided in the murder. Before going to his death, however, he made a written confes-

Harry Powell, the five-year-old son of H. A. Powell, met a narrow escape from death by the Blue Ridge passenger train due here at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The child was on the railroad track at the Cox Mill and the oncoming train frightened him so that he did not know what to do. He had gotten on the track from some steps in a cut when he saw the train and evidently tried to get to the steps, and was going towards the train. Engineer Hughes applied the brakes bard and fast and stopped the train within a few feet of the child.
